Modern Instructions for Modern Manufacturing

Manufacturers face numerous challenges in an evolving industry:

- Retaining a skilled workforce and training new employees
- Standardizing processes and increasing efficiency
- Improving production time and reducing quality issues
- Evaluating new technology and gathering operational data

With minimal implementation, Dozuki can solve these issues, and more poor or outdated instructions.

QUICK FACT

Implementing Standardized Procedures Has Never Been Easier

What if we told you the most impactful improvement you can make is also the easiest? Thanks to the ever decreasing cost of tablets, digitizing tribal knowledge and procedures is more turn-key than ever.

Our background as technical writers and instructors has influenced our software, giving your teams access to our extensive brain trust and expertise.

Lean, Reliable & Scalable

Dozuki's interactive work instruction software not only helps you train employees and enforce standardization, but it also collects valuable data.

BE PREPARED

Clearly outline the materials, tools, and prerequisites for instructions. Avoid reasons to halt work during production.

BE CONSISTENT

Outline proper production methods for new and experienced users, making sure everything is consistent.

BE INFORMED

Capture key data from users within instructions, preventing user errors and unreliable production metrics.
